

2012 ACL Training Calendar

North America Schedule

OPEN ENROLLMENT	ON-SITE	CERTIFICATION
Classes are held at business centers around the world and at ACL facilities in Vancouver in a live, hands-on format. Open to all and offered in a variety of languages, open enrollment classes incorporate "real-world" case studies and exercises for a better understanding of ACL concepts. Class sizes support individual attention and development. To register or to view scheduled dates and locations, visit www.acl.com/TakeTraining . Please note dates are subject to change.	Held at your workplace, on-site classes reduce the cost per attendee and save you time. On-site training mirrors our open enrollment training to familiarize users with ACL software and its capabilities; all ACL training courses are available for on-site training. With five or more people from your organization requiring training, our certified instructor provides hands-on experience at your site with your data at a date and time that better meets your needs. To learn more, contact us at training@acl.com or +1 604 669 4225.	The ACL Certification Program sets the industry benchmark for technical proficiency and professional expertise in using ACL software. Earning the ACL Certified Data Analyst (ACDA) designation - by experience or by examination - allows you to measure your ACL skills against global best practices drawn from our user base, providing tangible evidence of your professional development to support career growth.
